"Dog Waltz"

According to legend, one of the waltzes in Chopin's Opus 64 acquired the sobriquet of the "Dog Waltz" because it was inspired by the sight of George Sand's dog chasing its own tail.

Last spring, shortly before the close of school, the Junior Classes of Hope High School and Yenger High School were given the opportunity to visit a number of the local industries in the Hope area under a program designated as Business-Education Day by the Chamber of Commerce and the Hope Rotary Club.

After the tours the students were told that 3 United States Savings Bonds would be presented to three winners in each class for the best reports. Last Friday December 1st the winners at Yenger High School were presented their Bonds at an assembly program. Winners were Martha Pugh, Carol Williams and James Patterson.

Mr. Pruten thanked all those who participated and announced that another such program would be carried out next spring by the same sponsors.

Prison Panel Says Character Assassinated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A panel of five inmates at Cummins Prison Farm, who contend that the character of the panel has been assassinated, say they will file a suit today in Pulaski Circuit Court against Thomas O. Murton, assistant prison superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm.

Frank Read, a member of the panel, says the panel wants a public apology from Murton for some recent remarks he made. He said the suit would be mailed today.

The suit calls for Murton to appear in court and prove his statements and also to show why he should not be held responsible for libel.

Murton accused the panel and an inmate band last week of "drinking and sexual exploits" while on trips from the prison.

The panel visits various organizations in an attempt to explain prison life and the paths that lead there.

Murton made the statement after defending nine Tucker inmates who were commuting nightly to Little Rock to participate in an Arkansas Arts Center original drama, "Of Prisons and Men."

The state Prison Board passed a resolution last week prohibiting the inmates from taking part in the play, which depicts prison brutality.

Murton said the panel and the band were not escorted by an officer of the prison but that the Tucker inmates were.

"He can't assassinate our character," said Read. "We've done that for ourselves. But his statements could hurt what good, if any, we have done."

The inmates' suit contends that Murton's statements have "subjected the inmate panel . . . to ridicule and contempt."

Read, Larry J. Douglass, Marion C. Berry, Lamar House and William J. Milhorn are named as plaintiffs in the case.

"There is no way we can measure whether or not we are doing any good because you can't keep a record of young people who listen to our talks," Berry said.

The panel spoke at one of Murton's sociology classes at Little Rock University upon Murton's request.

"His classes seemed real interested in what we had to say and he seemed to be pleased with how we handled ourselves," Read said. "He thanked us after the class . . ."

of last February. Dr. Michael DeBakey, who led the development of the heart pump, said in Houston the transplant "certainly would be a great achievement if they're able to overcome the rejection." Dr. Kenneth Sell of the U.S. Naval Medical Research Institute said there was "quite a definite chance" Washkansky might survive two years or more since several dogs which have received heart transplants are still alive two years afterward. One abortive heart transplant effort was made in 1964 at the University of Mississippi. Surgeons there kept a patient alive despite a failing heart in a long but futile wait for a suitable human donor. In desperation they finally transplanted the heart of a chimpanzee, which failed after one hour.

Retarded Children in Blue Ridge Are Taught to 'Play' by March of Dimes

Child's play has become serious business for two attractive youngsters living high in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Unlike most children who can't wait to rush out of the house every morning, romping and make-believe don't come naturally to Eddie, 8, and Shirley Frazier, 7, of Crozet, Va.

The pity is that the Blue Ridge Mountains would seem a paradise for children's play. Tinkling waterfalls lift their music everywhere. Great oaks and flowers grow lavishly over the landscape.

This brother and sister actually have to be taught how to play and have fun. These recreation lessons are part of their treatment at the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at the University of Virginia School of Medicine, Charlottesville.

A visitor to the Frazier's weatherbeaten home, a cinder-block-and-shingle cottage hidden in the mists of the mountains, learns quickly why "play" is a word without joyous meaning for Eddie and Shirley. The reason they don't try to pet the nearly tame doe grazing close by, or romp around with stray cats and dogs, is that they are mentally damaged.

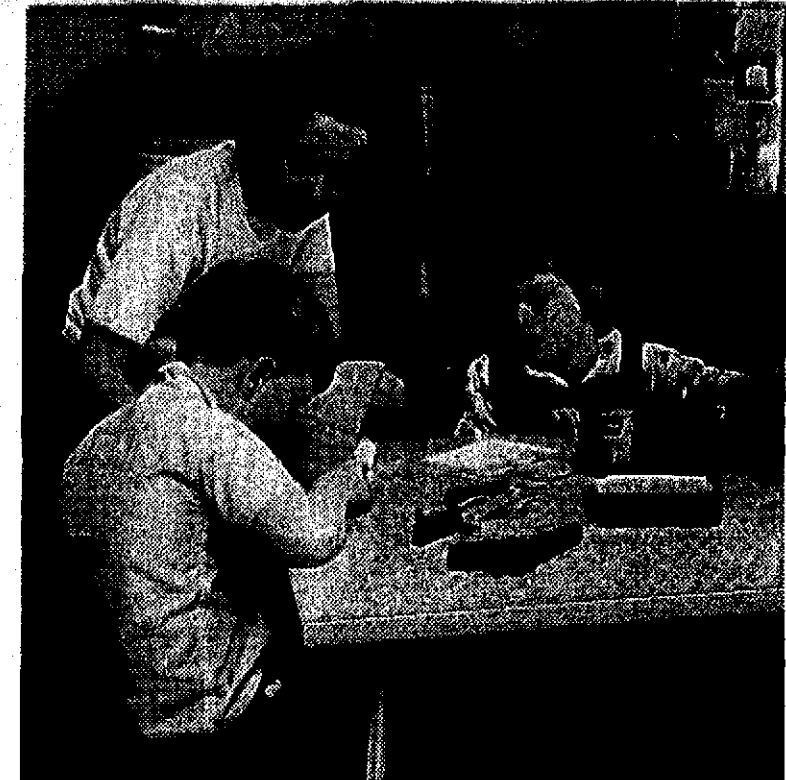

"When they aren't having their head spells (convulsions)," explains their mother, Mrs. Josephine Frazier, as she performs her chores, "they just sit around staring. Why won't these kids play?"

Blonde and blue-eyed Eddie and Shirley both suffer from several birth defects. One is an error in their metabolism, the vital process by which food is transformed into energy. Another is cerebral palsy, a lack of muscular control caused by brain damage. Aside from these problems, the children neither see nor hear well. Shirley can babble, but she cannot speak words.

From the Frazier home it's like entering another world as you cautiously drive down the precipitous road into Charlottesville, where the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center is located. Here the sun-filled recreation rooms for the young patients, and the unfagging optimism of the staff of pediatricians, speech and recreation therapists, psychologists and social workers, contrast sharply with the gloom at the Frazier cottage 5,000 feet up in the scudding clouds of the Blue Ridge.

Dr. Marilyn H. Grundig, one of the staff psychologists, sees the Frazier children for purposes of training when Eddie and Shirley and their mother slip down their mountain peak and journey into Charlottesville for check-ups.

"What we are doing here,"

STAFF PSYCHOLOGIST at March of Dimes Birth Defects Center, University of Virginia School of Medicine, Charlottesville, "teaches" Eddie, 8, and Shirley Frazier, 7, how to play. The children are mentally deficient.

she explains, "is preventing Eddie and Shirley from slipping further into retardation. We have brought Eddie along to the point where he is educable. In time to come, he'll be a reasonably useful citizen. Shirley is not educable, but the wonderful thing is that we have brought her along to the point where she is trainable. That's to say she can be taught self-care. Progress has been made possible by teaching these two handicapped children how to relate to others here. You might say that they are being taught to play by themselves and to play with others. This is of enormous importance in the prevention of their further withdrawal from the real world."

the state. If he does come in, McIntyre or Gov. John W. King probably will run as a Johnson stand-in.

Johnson, in a telephone speech to a six-state regional Democratic conference at Charleston, W.Va., promised Saturday to support the 1968 Democratic nominee. But he did not say whether he plans to become that nominee.

Without mentioning names, he referred indirectly to McCarthy when he said: "I believe we already have several volunteers for next year's ticket. In general, I like to stay out of these internal party matters."

McCarthy won the unanimous endorsement Sunday of the Conference of Concerned Democrats, meeting in Chicago. The 450 to 500 delegates from 42 states attending the meeting said of the Minnesotaan:

"McCarthy is a statesman who possess the qualities of courage, leadership, humility and vision needed to instill faith in our government."

Packers, Colts Post Victories

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Rams want it because they need it. The Green Bay Packers want it simply because they're the Green Bay Packers.

And the Baltimore Colts. Well, they won't have anything to do with it but they're sure interested.

"It" is victory in next Saturday's National Football League game between the Rams and Packers in Los Angeles.

"I guess we'll have to do it ourselves now," Coach George Allen said Sunday after the Rams, 16-13, beat the Atlanta Falcons 20-13 to remain one game behind the unbeaten Baltimore Colts in the Coastal Division with two games remaining.

It's going to take some doing because the other team the Rams have to play yet is the Colts, 23-17 winner over Dallas Sunday, whose only other game is against the lowly New Orleans Saints next Sunday in Baltimore.

Green Bay, 16-13, already has clinched the Central Division title and doesn't need another regular-season victory.

But a rumor by Coach Vince Lombardi following Sunday's 30-27 victory over Minnesota clearly reveals the Packers' attitude toward any game.

"Winning is what counts."

Elsewhere in the NFL Sunday, Cleveland topped the New York Giants 24-14, St. Louis beat New Orleans 31-10, Washington tied Philadelphia 21-21, Chicago downed San Francisco 24-14 and Pittsburgh upset Detroit 24-14.

Denver upset the New York Jets 33-24, Oakland trounced San Diego 41-21, Houston edged Miami 17-14 and Kansas City defeated Buffalo 23-13 in the American Football League.

When Gabriel passed for two touchdowns, Bruce Gossett kicked two field goals and the defense did the rest for the Rams, who appeared to have their minds on the Colts-Dallas game.

"Somebody told us the score when Dallas was ahead, but nobody bothered to tell us who was the ball game," said Allen, who heard the news when he reached the dressing room.

The news was Lenny Moore batted into the end zone from two yards out with 10 minutes remaining for the Baltimore victory.

Dallas led 11-10 with T.O. on a Dan Meredith pass and Dave Edwards' pass interception and a Danny Villanueva field goal, when the Colts' Lou Sabers cut the stage for Moore's winning touchdown by booting three-pointers of 55 and 57 yards.

Despite the loss, Dallas, 14-4, clinched the Capital Division championship because of the Philadelphia-Washington tie.

Cleveland, 16-4, stopped the Giants, 14-7, from tying for first place in the Central Division by outscoring them 24-14 and then winning the game of a New York Jets rally with Jim Houston's 30-yard TD pass with 4:45 left in the fourth quarter.

St. Louis victory kept the Redskins, 14-4, in place behind the Browns and set the stage for their meeting next week in St. Louis. Johnny Rodgers had 34 yards for one TD, while Jim Hart passed for 110 yards.

The Packers settled a score with Minnesota—the Vikings had won three of the last four games—but they had to wait until the last eight seconds of the game to do it. Their wide receiver, Don Chandler, caught the winning 50-yard pass from Bart Starr with 10 seconds left.

Washington led behind 35-14 when they scored on the last play of the game. Quarterback Earl Flegal and Pete Johnson's 100-yard pass set up the victory.

Chicago's 30-27 victory over Minnesota was a 100-yard pass from Dan Fouts to Gary Evans for 100 yards and four TDs.

It was all Gale Sayers and a 100-yard field in San Francisco. The flashy halfback raced 97 yards with the opening kickoff for a touchdown and then scored two more—on a 15-yard run and a 26-yard punt return.

Cats Bounce Back, Beat Ashdown

By RALPH BOULTON
Star Sports Writer

Undaunted from the defeat of the night before, the Hope Bobcats bounced back and romped to an easy 61-29 victory over the Ashdown Panthers last Saturday in Ashdown.

Beginning to function more like a team, the Bobcats were able to freely substitute with good success throughout. Coach Joe Austin was able to see each of the ten players he took, and all did fine jobs in the breather with Class A school. Nevertheless, it was a good game for a half.

Looking back at the beginning of the Bobcats' season, a theory which later was proven wrong. Leading 24-10 at the quarter, the Cats were already in foul trouble with the likes of guard Richard Salter, who seems to get picked on by every referee around. Richard had three fouls, but was playing a fine game and leading the team into the second half.

Starting to work the last break, the Cats overcame the lead further. Coming back in, Salter couldn't last much longer, and was fouled out with 1:27 left in the half. Things weren't bright at the time, but the team pulled together and finished the first sixteen minutes with a 27-15 lead.

Like the third game before it, the boys' third period was unexciting and a small spew by Bobcat Larry East before the period's end gave Hope a 41-20 lead with one minute left.

Like the third game before it, the boys' third period was unexciting and a small spew by Bobcat Larry East before the period's end gave Hope a 41-20 lead with one minute left.

What happened in the last three minutes you wouldn't believe, but this local quarter promptly proceeded to blink the Ashdown starters while outscoring them 21-10 on their own. Of course, the whole Hope congregation, most of all coach Austin, was flabbergasted at this, which sent the Bobcats home-free 61-29 with three minutes still to go.

To give Ashdown some mercy, Austin then put his starters back in to live on the second team's glory. Jumping at the sight of victory, though, the starters went on doggedly for the 61-29 score which you read in the first paragraph. By the way, when asked to comment on the win, Joe Austin only said, "No comment."

Head markers for the Bobcats were: Monte Garner and Larry East, who gathered 14 points each; Dwight Callaway with a fine game; and Mike and Richard Salter and Larry Feltzberger.

John Bailey was best on the line with 10 points. Donnie Middleton and Terry Harty both added two, and Larry Feltzberger had a free throw. Of the two who made the trip, only Wayne Norwood and Mike Taylor, who sat and saw Johnson pegged 14 and 11 respectively, lived Ashdown.

The win ended the Bobcats' record of 14 wins and 1 loss in the last 15 games. The team had lost to the Ashdown Panthers in the first game of the season.

Coach Austin said the team was "very happy" with the win. He said the team was "very happy" with the win.

Hope Girls Victim of Ashdown

By RALPH BOULTON
Star Sports Writer

Unable to cope with the fast-moving offense of the opponent, the Hope Lady Cats fell prey to the Ashdown Pantherettes 35-20 last Saturday night in Ashdown.

In any close loss it is easy to point out the "ifs" that made the difference. That practice took into effect even before the game itself was underway, because in the first half the Lady Cats had a goal whose rim was slanted slightly forward, but just enough to make a difference. This fact stood out when the Lady Cats made only one out of their first eight shots from the field.

However, the forwards played well, although not quite up to the form of last year. The 1965-66 bunch had their stride during the Hope Invitational last December, and likewise this squad appears on the verge of greatness.

Throughout the pre-game warm-ups Ashdown looked more relaxed than did the Lady Cats, and unlike the boys' team the Hope guards were a little jumpier. In the end the guards were not able to pull down their crucial rebounds.

Moving early in the action, the Lady Cats didn't even shoot until Carol Anthony hit with 4:31 left in the first period. Meanwhile the Pantherettes were on a roll, striking out to a 10-2 lead midway in the quarter. At this point Hope began to settle down, working into a 17-10 deficit at the period's end.

Shooting better in the second period, the Lady Cats struck with two quick baskets before Ashdown hit a rush. Netting backshots right and left and sideways, the Pantherettes sent forwards quickly eased to a 24-13 margin with four minutes left in the half. That was all for Ashdown, though, as Hope hit a spree, playing tough on defense and cool on offense while playing catch-up ball. When the dust cleared at halftime the scoreboard read 26-20.

With the two teams matching basket for basket, the third quarter was rather uneventful as the Lady Cats held their own. The Lady Cats blew three fourths, then came back somehow to take a 34-27 lead into the last period in a series of plays which wound up to be a nightmare.

Carol Donna Myers propped up her fourth foul with 4:41 left in the quarter, and Kay Coleman soon followed with her fourth of the evening. Still, the teams continued trading two-pointers until Ashdown called timeout with the score 45-24 and 1:07 still to be played.

At this point Ashdown went to Hales Parker in a last-ditch effort to make a comeback. Parker's shot, however, was blocked, and the Pantherettes were left with a 45-24 lead with 1:07 still to be played.

During that short time, Parker's shot, however, was blocked, and the Pantherettes were left with a 45-24 lead with 1:07 still to be played.

Chargers Defeated by Oakland

By RON RAPAPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oakland and Houston gained important American Football League victories Sunday, but whereas the Raiders played before a hostile crowd in San Diego, the Oilers were viewed by a friendly hometown audience. Maybe a little too friendly.

In the third quarter of Houston's 17-14 victory over Miami—which, coupled with Denver's 35-14 upset over New York tied the Oilers with the Jets for the Eastern Division lead—Houston was driving for a score when an interference penalty was called.

This so upset Dallas night club entertainer Buddy Ebsen that she ran out onto the field to personally present her case to the referee who was pacing off the yardage.

Wearing a low-cut sweater and tight red skirt, Miss Ebsen gripped the official's sleeve, but he unflinchingly brushed her aside. Dejected, she returned to the stands from which she and an unidentified male friend were spectating her performance.

Nothing quite so awkward occurred at San Diego, where Oakland posted the Chargers 31-21 and just about wrapped up the Western Division title. With three games left for both clubs, the Raiders lead the Chargers by 10 games.

In the only other AFL game Sunday, Kansas City beat Buffalo 23-15.

Best of a type
In the NFL, Chicago beat San Francisco 24-17. St. Louis downed New Orleans 31-20. Los Angeles edged Atlanta 20-17. Cleveland beat New York 24-14. Philadelphia and Washington tied 13-13. Baltimore took Dallas 23-17 and Pittsburgh beat Detroit 24-14.

Garlye Lamoreaux threw four touchdown passes, two to Billy Cannon, for the Raiders, who saddled the 60,001 Charger fans, the largest crowd to see a sports event in San Diego.

And as for the game at Houston, well, Boyle Granger and Woodie Campbell ran for touchdowns, but John Witteborn's 25-yard field goal in the second quarter was the margin of victory.

Joe Namath's passing statistics were as impressive as always—he completed 24 of 50 passes for 392 yards—but he had four interceptions, all in the second quarter, and by the time he did start connecting it was far too late.

The Broncos broke up a scoreless game in the second period, when interceptions set up two touchdowns and two field goals and Floyd Little returned a punt 77 yards for another score. By the time the Shea Stadium mob had stopped cheering, the Broncos had a 20-0 halftime lead.

The Chiefs were trailing 13-0 at halftime but recovered thanks to Fred Akers' strong punt to Mark Mullaney and a fine last-quarter catch by Eric Taylor. A 34-yard touchdown pass by Len Dawson brought the victory.

Bobcats Are Outgunned by Wildcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Plainly outclassed by a much larger school, the Hope Bobcats lost their opening game of the season 87-53 to the El Dorado Wildcats at Jones Field House last Friday night.

Both teams were shooting well for this early point in the season, and the game itself was constantly in motion, with no stalling moments. The Wildcats used their evident height and weight advantages to good use under the backboards, and good shooting was a major factor in the outcome.

The Cats stayed close for a while, hanging tough through the first period, after which Hope was trailing 24-17. In the second period El Dorado was a ball of fire, though, actually outscoring the Bobcats 22-2 in the final six minutes of the first half. Forcing the Bobcats into mistakes which culminated in Wildcats' fast breaking proved to be the locals' downfall, and at the half El Dorado had a breezing 50-25 lead.

Coached by Jim Atwell, the Wildcats were clearly in top condition, and their AAA status nearly requires this. However, this can't be a vintage year in El Dorado, with their best player reportedly recovering from an injury to return in action soon. The second half was merely a replay of the first, with the hustling and slick Wildcats stretching out their already overgrown lead. When it was over the Bobcats were on the short end of an 87-53 score, but up on the fundamentals of rough and tough basketball.

Leading the Bobcats' attack was Richard Saltee, who sacked 19 points. His closest followers were Larry East and Montie Garner, who hit for 8 and six respectively. In the double-figures for El Dorado were John Enslley with 23, Courtney Sheppard with 15, Skip Beaton with 12, and Harry Simmons had 10. The Bobcats and the Wildcats met again on January 9, this time in El Dorado.

In the "B" Team game the locals fought hard before submitting to the El Dorado 76-53 group. Still, the Hope boys showed improvement and will provide necessary help down the conference stretch.

Hope's biggest obstacle to victory was an El Dorado press, for the Wildcats have come up with more than managed to keep out "B" Liz-one way to hurt unwanted comards from scoring more. The halftime score had been 38-20, after two close periods which were marked by bad breaks. Sophomore Ronny Brown, who had been showing great potential in his first game as a 10th grader, suffered a foot injury in the second quarter and will be out for a short but unknown length of time.

Junior Danny Reyenga paced the "B" Lizards with 21 big points, after whom Terry Turner with 12 and Jim Singleton with 8 came closest. Ricky Putman had 6 points, Ronny Brown four, Thomas Norvell three to round out the locals' scoring. Worth mention for El Dorado were Terry Ross, who canned 17 points; Bud Jean, who managed 16, Lloyd Smith with 12 and John Brewer with 11.

Tomorrow night the Bobkittens Lady Cats, and Bobcats host the Prescott Curley Wolves at Jones Field House, and the Hope teams hopefullly are remembering the 14-6 football loss to Prescott in September, the first loss on the gridiron of the Bobcats to Prescott in over thirty years.

Hospitality Not Good in Boston Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Not long ago, a visit to Boston was the smoothest trip in the National Hockey League. But hospitality is a thing of the past for the Bruins, who with which the Jr. Wildcats have come up with more than managed to keep out "B" Liz-one way to hurt unwanted comards from scoring more. The

Texan Has Rewritten Golf History

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — With "desire" and an old putter a friend gave him six years ago, young Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., has rewritten the Professional Golfers Association tournament history.

The darkly intense Texan, sank three birdie putts in a row — the last a dramatic 39-footer on the first hole of a sudden death playoff — and won the $35,000 Cajun Classic, 1967's final stop for the PGA national tour.

The 24-year-old ex-University of Houston player did something no other pro has ever done — that's win an official PGA event in his very first appearance on the play-for-pay circuit.

After Fleckman and Jack Montgomery, another young Texan, finished 72 holes — 36 of them Sunday because of a heavy rain the preceding day — with identical 13-under par 275s, they began their playoff.

Both boomed good drives down the fairway of the 332-yard par 4 No. 1 hole. Montgomery's approach shot plopped in a sand trap to the right of the green. Fleckman's landed toward the front of the green, about 35 feet from the cup.

Fleckman, further from the pin than his opponent, stroked his putt toward the hole. Six inches from the pin, the rolling ball began breaking to the right and dropped in the cup.

"Actually, I didn't want to run at it, I just wanted to see how close I could get without making it," said young Fleckman, who recently graduated 17th in the PGA's approved player school — now a prerequisite for tour rookies.

Butch Baird Holds Lead by Stroke

WEST END, Grand Bahamas (AP) — After three classy sub-par rounds, Butch Baird boogeyed his way to a four-over-par 76 Sunday, but held on to win the PGA West End Golf Classic by a single stroke over Bert Weaver.

The charging Weaver turned in a final round of 69, but lost his bid for a tie when a birdie putt fell off the line on the last green.

Baird, who posted a 279 total on scores of 67-68-68 in the opening rounds of the island's $20,000 tournament, lost five strokes to Weaver in the first seven holes of the final tour.

Buccaneers Real Tough at Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New Orleans Buccaneers, who have been practically unbeatable at home, have an advantage over other American Basketball Association teams — they have an extra home court.

The Buccaneers have won nine of 10 games in New Orleans and are 5-0 in Memphis, Tenn., their home-away-from-home where they have seven more scheduled this season.

The latest Memphis success for New Orleans, 16-5 and first in the Western Division, was a 102-94 victory over Kentucky Sunday night. Doug Moe led New Orleans with 20 points. Darel Carrier paced Kentucky with 17.

In other ABA games Sunday, Pittsburgh edged Indiana 103-100, Houston whupped Minnesota 113-100, and Denver downed Anaheim 103-86.

St. Louis defeated Seattle 123-109 in the only National Basketball Association action.

Art Heyman, recently acquired from New Jersey, helped Pittsburgh end a four-game losing streak with 14 points and a game-high seven assists. Pittsburgh's Connie Hawkins topped all scorers with 25. Roger Brown scored 23 for Indiana.

Houston, tied with Minnesota 76-78 after three periods, broke the game open with a 35-point final quarter. Art Becker led Houston with 32 points, a club game-high. Les Hunter poured in 31 for Minnesota.

Wayne Hightower scored 22 to pace Denver. Came honors went to Anaheim's Ben Warley, with 24.

Center Zelmo Beaty hit for 20 of 23 foul shots and finished with an NBA career high of 42 points in leading St. Louis to its 20th victory in 27 games and a one-game lead over idle San Francisco in the Western Division.

Diver Killed by Duck Hunter

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — A diver in a spearfishing contest was fatally shot Sunday by a duck hunter who apparently mistook him for an alligator, according to police.

The diver, Jim Clark, 35, of Shreveport, La., had surfaced by a stump on Caddo Lake near where the hunter was in a boat.

Contest officials said the area in which Clark was diving was marked by flags to caution boaters and water skiers that a diver was below the surface.

The name of the duck hunter was withheld pending further investigation by Harrison County officer.s

Candidate for Derby Uncovered

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Pierce, who seems to do his best riding on the Pacific Coast, has added another important stakes triumph — the San Mateo Stakes — to his long list of Western victories.

And he may have uncovered a Kentucky Derby candidate in Don B.

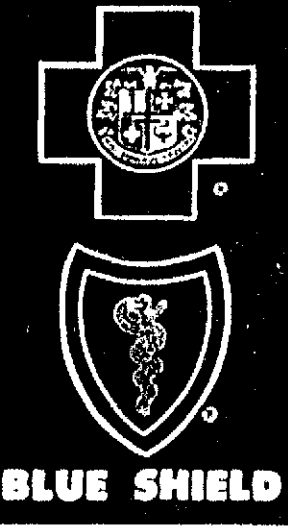

The 30-year-old jockey has won such far West stakes as the Santa Anita Handicap, California Derby, Hollywood Gold Cup, Hollywood Oaks, Sunset Handicap, Del Mar Derby, Del Mar Handicap, Santa Anita Derby, San Fernando Stakes, Santa Ynez Stakes, San Vicente Handicap and the Governor's Handicap at Longacres.

He added the San Mateo Stakes at Bay Meadows to the list Saturday when he rode Don B. to an easy five-length victory over Prince Hemp and Royal Fols.

Don B. stepped the mile off San Mateo for 2-year-olds in 1:36 3-5 and became a leading contender as the California hope for the 1968 Kentucky Derby.

HELEN HELP US! by Helen Bottel

ANSWERS TO THE SMART AND HAPPY GAI WHO KEEPS HER HUSBAND

Dear Helen: May I write a fan letter to "Smart and Happy" who made a list of her shortcomings, then changed herself into a model wife to please her husband?

Dear Mrs. S. and H.: After reading your remarkable astute comments in Helen's column, I have three favorite authors: O'Henry, Hemingway and Yogi Berra. My wife does not agree with me. After I pinned your fine letter to her pillow, I am now sleeping in the guest room. - DAN

Dear Helen: When I first read "Smart and Happy" letter, I groaned. Especially since my husband read it first. "What a woman! live up to!" I thought, and privately hated her.

But then I analyzed its points. She made and saw they weren't. And you agreed with her. Helen! How could you?

I am fat and I, too, talk too much on the phone. I use the sheets when I am cold and ready, have my hair done, and cook and serve meals. I may not leave the table at the moment I'm finished, but I do clean the plates, wash, and rub talcum powder into them.

The only reason I am not to box down to a shirt-changing husband is that she's so dumb she hasn't learned her way around, and can't make a living for herself.

Get smart, S. and H. You may THINK it's a good idea to have a second wind! - INDEPENDENT

Dear Helen: I'm married 23 years, and I don't need all the advice that "Smart and Happy" thinks is necessary to keep a husband. Make-up, night skirts, tinted hair, and a clean nose don't always keep a man at home. If a husband is the clever type, he'll chase, no matter how ready and willing his wife is. If he isn't, she can be a fat, slovenly, and Yogi Berra. My friend very happy. Bernice, Mrs. Catherine Gunning, 1217 Payne St., Louisville, Kentucky, 40202. Thank you. - B.M.D.

BOB GLADNEY CLYDE FOUSE

"The Municipal Airport — Gateway to Hope" was the program presented at the Hope Rotary Club on Friday, December 1 at the Town and Country Club that the local airport is self-sufficient, and by mid-December

Hope will appear on area maps used by pilots. "From 1967 to 1976 air traffic will increase 86 per cent," the speaker said, "thus making an airport a vital necessity to the growth of a community." He also explained that the letters, H, O, P, E, on a large roof in town would aid pilots in identification.

Airport Manager Robert Gladney spoke briefly about the local facility and said that 57 or 60 people used it each month. B. L. Rettig will soon begin working once more at the airport, he said. He distributed Approach Rate Charts of this airport used by pilots, and he answered questions from the audience. Prior to the program a birthday cake with one candle on it was presented. Rotarian Roy Anderson, and it was announced that a Rotary flag had been received from a district in Australia which had a recent visitor in Hope. Besides the club members, Rufus Herndon, III was also at the luncheon meeting last week.

Fictional Obit
John Galsworthy's most important work was his series of novels about the Forsyte family. The main character, Soames Forsyte, became so well-known that when he died (in a book) the London Times announced his death in its headlines.

Many View Body of Cardinal

NEW YORK (AP) — Dressed in the white, red and gold splendor of a Prince of the Roman Catholic Church, the body of Francis Cardinal Spellman lay in state in St. Patrick's Cathedral today.

Thousands of mourners filed by the catafalque, placed in the center aisle, after a solemn High Mass of requiem sung Sunday night by Archbishop John F. Maguire and nine concelebrants. Archbishop Maguire has been named administrator of the archdiocese by Pope Paul VI to serve until a successor is named.

Shortly after midnight, the great bronze doors of the cathedral were shut.

Four New York City firemen and policemen stood guard over the coffin of African mahogany lined with bronze which will remain in place until funeral services Thursday for the cardinal, who died Saturday of a stroke at the age of 78.

All seven surviving American cardinals have been invited to the Thursday services.

The six cardinals currently in the United States have indicated they will attend, but whether Francis Cardinal Brennan, head of the Vatican's Sacred Rota, would return from Rome was not known.

As mourners filled the cathedral and messages of condolence poured into the chancery — including those from the Pope and President Johnson — speculation began on who would succeed Spellman.

Although the selection of a successor is finally made by the Pope, this will be the first major American church appointment under a new nominating system set up to give American bishops more say in the choosing.

First, the bishops of each of the country's 28 provinces will meet with their governing archbishop and agree on a list of names.

These will be given to a new committee of seven bishops from different areas of the country, named last spring, to draw up a consensus of local nominations. This was formerly done by the apostolic delegate in Washington.

These names will be forwarded to the Pope who will thus have a chance to get clear evidence of the bishops' feelings.

Opening lead - ♠ A

Oswald: "One of the valuable by-products that comes from answering questions for readers of the Bridge World magazine is that you get some very interesting hands. Here's one from Madison, Wis."

Jim: "They bid enough. North had a very minimum limit raise (if that), and South barged into six without further ado. Did he make it?"

Oswald: "According to the letter, it was in a duplicate game and two South players both bid and made the slam. How would you play the hand after the lead of ace and another spade?"

Jim: "It is easy enough to play after you see all the hands. Just looking at my own hand and dummy, as South, I would be distinctly nervous. There is so much work to do and so many cards to worry about. However, I would start by playing my ace of diamonds. East would drop the jack, and after some more thought I would lead a second diamond to dummy's king."

Oswald: "You would have come to the conclusion that you were not going to make the hand against a 5-1 diamond break and would be following the principle of playing for the cards to be where you need them when you have bid a trifle high."

Jim: "Exactly. After the queen of diamonds fell under the king, my only worry would be about the trumps. I would solve that problem by leading a third diamond. Assuming that East ruffed, I would over-ruff, play my ace of trumps and another trump and show my hand. If East discarded, I would assume that he held three trumps to the queen and play him for that holding."

Oswald: "That third diamond lead put East in the position of the man who was going to be hanged if he did or if he didn't."

A - Just overcall with one diamond. You will get a chance to bid again later on. It is usually unwise to make a take-out double with a two suit hand.

You find one diamond West bids one heart. Your partner passes and East raises to two hearts. What do you do now?

Damp December

Maps show Weather Bureau's forecast of average temperature, precipitation for the period through Dec. 30.

Below normal temperatures are forecast for the northern third of the nation, but warmer weather is predicted for the southern half.

It should be a wet month for most of the country with dry weather over the central and southern Great Plains and along the South Atlantic coast.

New Gimmick Confusing to Radar

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Pentagon is buying huge quantities of tinseled "countermeasure chaff" to throw a blizzard of confusing images into radar guiding North Vietnam's anti-aircraft guns.

The move reflects efforts to curb U.S. aircraft losses in the war, now totaling 758 over North Vietnam in less than three years of operation.

The chaff, made up of thread-sized strips of aluminum-coated fiberglass, is fired in puffs by American pilots approaching bombing target areas.

The puffs reflect enemy radar signals and create blips on radar screens just like planes, confusing anti-aircraft crews.

"It's like someone rolling a bunch of coconuts down a hill toward you with a hand grenade somewhere among them," a Navy officer explained.

In the past few days the Navy has ordered more than $1 million in chaff canisters, equaling its total purchases for the fiscal year ending last June 30. The Pentagon said the Navy will order an additional $3 million more by next summer.

The Air Force is more than quadrupling its use of chaff. Officials said they expect to buy $6.44 million worth, up from $1.4 million.

Both services will get fresh supplies of chaff over the next few months as the United States prepares for intensified bombing during the good weather months beginning in North Vietnam about March.

The use of chaff to foil enemy detection gear goes back to World War II. The tactic has assumed increased importance as the Pentagon seeks to counter North Vietnam's unprecedented air defenses.

Blue and silver in color, the chaff now in use resembles the shiny icicles used to decorate some Christmas trees.

The aluminum coating is less than 1-1,000th of an inch thick, giving the chaff an almost weightless quality which allows it to drift for minutes, prolonging the period of camouflage for U.S. planes.

Chaff is produced by running fiberglass threads through melted aluminum. During World War II the strips were solid aluminum which meant they were not only heavier, and therefore less effective but also more costly.

"The British like silver for theirs, which is really expensive," one military man said.

Negotiate With Reds? Acheson Should Know

What Dean Acheson said about the Communist governments, in New York Sunday, may not affect the half-baked college kids and the overdone professors who are dreaming up a Vietnam Peace Party, but it comes through to the rest of us — loud and clear.

If the youngsters don't "dig" Acheson it's no surprise — humans of tender age aren't noted for doing tedious research on facts before popping off.

But if you expect to command an audience when discussing today's history in the making you've got to know what history says of yesterday and the day before.

Acheson is Mr. History himself. "Ridiculous!" he snorts. He ought to know. As Secretary of State he tried negotiating with the Communists not once but many times. Speaking from New York Sunday he reported:

Negotiating with the Communists didn't work in divided Berlin.

It didn't work in Korea.

And it won't work in Vietnam.

"When the East German Communists blocked the corridor into Berlin," he said, "we found by repeated experience that negotiation hadn't the slightest effect. The Communists quit the blockade only when they found it was hurting them more than it was hurting the Allies."

And he read an identical chapter of history when dealing with North Korea and the Red Chinese.

Vietnam is a different war — but with the same enemy.

Whom will you trust for policy in this critical hour — untutored youngsters and theoretical professors . . . or Dean Acheson, veteran diplomatic battler who met the Communists at many conference tables and without exception came home empty-handed?

Folksinger Is Found Unconscious

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — Folksinger Jimmie Rodgers was reported well enough to make telephone calls from his hospital bed today, although his manager said he is still "in very serious condition."

"He insists on making telephone calls to friends and they are letting him do it rather than get all worked up over it," said Seymour Heller, Rodgers' manager.

Hospital officials refused to comment on Rodgers' condition.

Heller said the 33-year-old singer could be hospitalized "anywhere from a week or two to a couple of months."

Rodgers was found unconscious and beaten along a freeway early Friday. He suffered a skull fracture. He had apparently been attacked with a blunt instrument during a robbery attempt, according to his physician, Dr. William L. Donham.

Heller said Rodgers has no recollection of Friday. "He's lost the whole day," he said. "The only thing that remains is 'the impression that he was hit with a tire iron.'"

Peace Buttons

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has asked the principal of South Salem High School to reconsider its order that students may no longer wear peace buttons in school.

The ACLU said the rule violates the students' freedom of speech.

The principal, Carl E. Aschenbrenner, said he banned the buttons because, in his opinion, the triangular peace symbol also stands for free love.

LBJ Skips Contest in Popularity

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keeping his name off the popularity contest ballot in the New Hampshire primary March 12 but soon after could lose the option of concealing his future political plans.

Johnson has shrugged off questions about whether he is seeking a second elective term. But the bridge he has said he will cross when he comes to it may be just around the bend in the April 2 Wisconsin primary.

In New Hampshire, a candidate's name can't be posted on the presidential primary ballot without his consent. In Wisconsin, his name can be entered by a state commission and he must disclaim any intention of running to get it off.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre D-N.H., said in an interview Sunday that in line with the President's wishes, Johnson will not be entered in the popular vote contest but will be represented with a state of Democratic National Convention delegates.

"The President doesn't want to disclose his intentions officially in March in a state where we have only about 85,000 registered Democrats," McIntyre said.

The public impact of New Hampshire's primary has always been out of proportion to the relatively small numbers of voters involved.

When the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., trounced President Truman in the state's 1952 voting, Truman said presidential primaries were a lot of "eyewash." But he announced soon after that he wouldn't seek re-election.

McIntyre predicted that those ignoring the denials of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., that he has any intention of becoming a presidential candidate in 1968, will furnish most of the opposition to Johnson's Vietnam policy in the state's balloting. They may stage a write-in drive and enter delegate candidates favorable to Kennedy.

He said he doubts that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy D-Minn., an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination, will enter the popularity contest, adding McCarthy is little known in the state.

Increasing Longevity Gap Between Women, Men Puzzles Science

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Scientists are puzzled by the increasing longevity gap between women and men. In 1920 women lived an average of only a year longer than men. Today their life expectancy is seven years greater than that of men — 73.5 to 66.5.

On a less mortal level, another thing science can't yet explain is why men tend to lose hair from the top of their head as they age but grow more hair in their ears and nostrils. It really doesn't seem to make much sense, does it?

But it is encouraging to know that, even in this most murderous of centuries, more people are living longer. Of America's 200 million people, 1,124,000 are over 85.

It's the ordinary man making an ordinary salary who keeps Uncle Sam living in the style in which he seems to want to become accustomed. Experts of Tax Foundation, Inc., have figured that if the Internal Revenue Service took 100 per cent of all incomes over $10,000 a year, it would bring in only enough money to operate the federal government for 34 days.

If it's true, as H.G. Wells once said, that "civilization is a race between education and catastrophe," we may win yet. In 1965 U.S. colleges and universities awarded 17,000 doctoral degrees. By 1976 the figure is expected to reach 37,000 annually. Quotable in tables: "A boy be-

British Economy Is Again Threatened by a Railroad Slowdown

By MICHAEL CODEL
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Britain's lagging economy was threatened again today by another labor dispute, a railroad slowdown which Labor Minister Ray Gunter called "the silliest dispute of the decade."

The nation's 36,500 locomotive drivers began working by the book, observing strictly every point in their 241-page rule book including lengthy inspections of all equipment before moving.

Scores of freight and passenger trains were canceled. The engineer of a milk train refused to move, and 20,000 gallons had to be siphoned into trucks. The state railway said up to 25 per cent of all passenger services might be canceled.

Roads into London were jammed even more than usual by traffic 50 per cent above normal. Automobile associations organized car pools and commuter pickup points.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson called his Cabinet to assess the effects of the strike and possibly to declare an emergency, mobilizing all available transport to take over the load from stalled trains.

Army trucks may be used to haul essential goods and Royal Air Force planes to fly the mail.

The engineers claim that train guards, who are members of the rival National Union of Railwaymen, should not be allowed to ride in the empty cabs at the rear of locomotives. The Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen said the guards belong in cabooses.

27 Hurt When Cable Car Runs Wild

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With passengers screaming in terror, a cable car ran wild down one of San Francisco's steepest hills Sunday night, ramming a car which exploded into flames and crashed into nine others.

Ambulances took 27 persons, most of them from the cable car, to hospitals with burns and bruises. Critically burned was James Van Baalen, 30, of San Francisco.

The six-ton Hyde Street cable car, nearing the end of its two-mile run from Powell and Market streets in a heavy downpour, rolled onto the steepgrade and went forward out of control on rain-slick tracks.

According to passengers, the cable car careened for a block and a half down Hyde. Some passengers jumped off. At Bay Street the car rammed in a U which bounced off others as its rear tank ruptured.

"A big sheet of flame hit the cable car," said Jim Kosek, 22, of Clarendon Hills, Ill. Kosek, of Clarendon Hills, Ill. Kosek, just returned from serving in Vietnam, said the cable car seemed to have "lost its brakes."

Several persons were injured in the autos that were hit after the initial impact.

Another cable car passenger, Lorena Matson, 23, of San Francisco, said: "As the cable car started down the steep hill toward Bay Street, the driver said, 'oh, oh, it looks like we're gonna lose our cable.'"

"We thought he was just kidding the tourists and we laughed. Then we just kept going. Some people jumped off, screaming. There was a white car at Bay Street. Then things were falling. There was fire."

The cable car continued for another block and stopped at North Point Street, its front windshield and the ancient woodwork on the right side smashed. But the steelwork in front appeared intact.

Officer Frank Combs said he believed the cable car had lost the grip on the sub-pavement cable that pulls the cars up the hills of the city.

Police said the cable car gripman, Arthur Coats, and the conductor-brakeman, Lou Abels, were not injured.

McCarthy Has Gained Support

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has gained the support of the Conference of Concerned Democrats in his bid to wrest the Democratic presidential nomination from President Johnson.

Between 450 and 500 persons from 42 states closed a two-day conference Sunday by shouting their endorsement of McCarthy for the 1968 nomination and unanimously approving a resolution praising the Minnesota lawmaker's "dynamic leadership."

The conference was aimed at finding an alternative to President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

The resolution favoring McCarthy said in part: "McCarthy is a statesman who possesses the qualities of courage, leadership, humility and vision needed to instill faith in our government."

McCarthy announced Thursday he would be a candidate in four and possibly more state presidential primaries. During a conference session Saturday he said he will take part in the Massachusetts primary.

The primaries named Thursday were those in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon and California.

In an address to the organization Saturday, McCarthy assailed the Johnson leadership for delivering a "message of apprehension, a message of fear" on the war in Vietnam.

He was asked by a delegate what relationship his campaign had with the activities of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

McCarthy replied: "There's no conspiracy, collusion or common plan between us. What he will do is up to him. Somebody had to make the test and now that we've made it we are going to pursue it."

Gerald Hill, a conference chairman and president of the California Democratic Council, expressed the belief that the conference's stand on Johnson and McCarthy represented a majority view of the American people.

Hill introduced the resolution endorsing McCarthy. It was seconded by Karl Andersen of Eau Claire, Wis., Leonard Robins of St. Louis Park, Minn., and Theodore Wise of New York City.

Southerners Fear School Aid Measure

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate sponsors of a $14.2 billion federal aid to education bill seek administration assurances aimed at easing Southern fears over the cutoff of funds because of alleged segregation.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the bill's floor manager, said Sunday consultations were going on with officials of the Health, Education and Welfare Department even while the measure is under floor debate.

Morse said he knew Southern senators "have a great many reservations about the bill" because of the way HEW has proceeded in school desegregation cases.

At the same time, Morse and other sponsors of the bill made it clear they did not want to take floor amendments which could have the effect of weakening the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which bars federal aid funds for projects where racial segregation is practiced.

The sponsors said they hope HEW can come up with some statement about its handling of future desegregation cases which would satisfy the Southerners.

The Dixie senators declined to bring up any of their proposed amendments in the civil rights area when the bill first was called up for debate last Friday.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was forced to put the measure over until today.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., is the sponsor of a proposed amendment that would bar HEW from cutting off school aid funds to any district once the school year was under way.

Heart Transplant Is Successful, Could Be Medical Breakthrough

AP News Digest

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A South African man continued in satisfactory condition today with the heart of a 25-year-old girl pumping his blood after the medical breakthrough Sunday of a human heart transplant.

Louis Washkansky, 55, a Lithuanian-born businessman, was in the critical postoperative period of what Groote Schuur Hospital called the first successful human heart transplant.

Heart specialists around the world were waiting to see if Washkansky's body would accept or reject the heart of Denise Ann Darvall, an accounting machine operator killed in a car crash.

"The longer Washkansky goes on, the better," said Dr. Jacobus G. Burger, medical supervisor of the hospital, "although that does not mean the heart will not be rejected later. The body could decide in 5 or 10 years' time that it doesn't want this heart."

Washkansky had a tracheotomy—a breathing tube inserted in his throat—and could not speak although he was reported fully conscious Sunday afternoon after the five-hour operation. He was being fed anticoagulants to prevent blood clotting. Dr. Berger said that without the transplant Washkansky would have been dead within a few days because his heart's muscle was worn down.

The landmark operation was supervised by Dr. Jan H. Louw, the hospital's chief surgeon, with Prof. Chris Barnard performing the main surgery.

Surgeons removed the heart from Miss Darvall's body first and kept it going by a mechanical pump while they took out Washkansky's damaged heart. They then transplanted the girl's heart into the man's chest and started it beating with jolts from electrodes.

"It was like turning the ignition switch of a car," said Dr. Louw.

The case was followed with extreme interest in the United States, where heart disease is the nation's leading killer.

"It sounds to me like a damn good job—scientifically valid," said Dr. Norman E. Shumway, head of the cardiovascular surgery division at the Stanford Medical Center.

He said his staff is ready to perform the same operation when the right combination of dying patient and donor—whose heart must be taken no later than half an hour after death—occurs at Stanford.

Dr. Shumway predicted that within 10 years doctors will be transplanting hearts with the same frequency they now transplant kidneys. About 600 persons throughout the world were living with transplanted kidneys as

Delta Fight Rages, 187 Enemy Die

By GEORGE ESPEY

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen and South Vietnamese Marines boxed in a Viet Cong battalion in the Mekong Delta today and reported killing 200 in a day-long battle that raged into the night.

Initial field reports put U.S. casualties at four dead and 38 wounded. South Vietnamese at 15 killed and 50 wounded.

The delta battle coincided with more of the enemy artillery and rocket attacks which have become the prevailing pattern of the Vietnam war in recent weeks. Communist troops shelled a U.S. destroyer, killing three, made a bazooka attack on the U.S. Army headquarters just outside of Saigon, sank one cargo barge and set another afire, and ambushed an Army convoy.

The fighting in the delta broke out just before 8 a.m. as troops of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division and the 5th Vietnamese Marine battalion were being landed by Navy armored troop carriers for a sweep.

The force came under heavy fire from recoilless rifles, small arms and . . . U.S. Army . . . artillery and Navy gunboats joined in the battle to support the ground troops.

The U.S. Command said heavy contact continued throughout the day and that the allied troops pushed the Communists about 2½ miles northward. At nightfall, there was still moderate to heavy contact.

U.S. headquarters said the allied troops also took five prisoners and captured 42 weapons.

Election Ruling Is Upheld

By ED SHEARER

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld today a ruling that invalidated the results of an election in Arkansas County which imposed a one-mill tax on real and personal property to be used for maintenance of a public library at Stuttgart.

The high court, affirming a decision by Circuit Court in Arkansas County, held that faulty ballots on the matter presented to voters at the November 1966 election reasonably may have caused some voters not to vote, or to vote for the tax.

The measure had passed by a vote of 1,506 to 1,035 with 1,540 persons not voting, as determined by votes cast in other races, including the governor's race.

Stipulations made in the trial showed that some of the printed ballots were improper in that there was no box after the word "against" in which a person could mark his ballot.

It also was stipulated that proper ballots were distributed to all absentee voters and to one voting precinct, while defective ballots were distributed to the other 21 voting precincts.

The record shows that 3,970 votes were cast in the governor's race, and that on five other issues presented the voters, based on the total votes cast for governor, percentages ranged from 83 per cent to 96 per cent, while the tax issue got votes from only 61 per cent.

The suit was filed by E. E. Gordon and others against E. E. Gregory and the county election commission.

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

— Reversed and dismissed a Circuit Court in Jefferson County ruling that Hugo E. Coleman should receive workman's compensation, Coleman, an employee of Asphalt Materials Co., Inc., claimed temporary total disability as a result of a heart attack he suffered while on the job in July 1966.

— Reversed and remanded Pulaski Circuit Court's ruling that denied William Orman's petition for a writ of habeas corpus after Orman pleaded guilty to five counts of robbery, drawing terms of 21 years for each count to run concurrently.
